Langley Hall Women's Residence

Women's Residence

General Information

Langley Hall, the newly acquired residence for women students will be opened for occupancy in the Fall of 1967.

The residence, a three storey brick building, is located at 6900 Sherbrooke Street, two blocks from the main campus. Attractive accommodations are available for approximately 125 women in the completely renovated and equipped building.

Single, double, and triple rooms are provided, (no private baths). The rooms are completely furnished and the housing contract includes the rental of pillow, blankets and linen. Dining facilities do not exist in Langley Hall therefore, all meals are served in Hingston Hall, the men's residence located on the main campus.

All women students under 21 years of age who cannot live at home, are obliged to live in residence. Any exception to this regulation must be approved by the Dean of Women.

The aim of the Women's Residence program is to provide a center for living and for learning. Langley Hall is conceived as an education facility taking into account the individual and the group and their respective intellectual, social, and recreation needs. The programs, staff, and physical facilities of Langley Hall are all directed toward the fulfillment of the specific needs of women students.

Residence

The college reserves the right to place the student in whatever room seems to be best in the interests of the women's programme as a whole, but careful consideration will be given to preferences expressed. Due to the limited number of single rooms available, the college reserves the right to change the choice to a double or triple room.

If a student withdraws from residence, a pro-rated refund less ten percent will be made on room and board.

All residence fees are payable in Canadian Funds, and cheques will be made payable to Loyola College.

Residents are required to vacate their rooms within 24 hours of the last examination or graduation.
